

ANTI-TRUMP TALKING POINTS:
FIRST TIME CAUCUSGOERS SUPPORTING TRUMP;
MORE MODERATE CAUCUSGOERS SUPPORTING TRUMP

- Trump claims to stand up for average working people like you, but in fact he's just another guy who's been getting richer and richer by doing things that make people like you poorer and poorer, or simply don't help you out.
- Trump thinks your wages are too high. He said it in a debate. Do you agree with Trump that you get paid too much? Should you get paid less, like he says?
- Trump slashed worker benefits at his casino. Do you think your health care, 401k and other benefits are more than you deserve? Do you think your health insurance, 401k or other benefits should be cut or totally gotten rid of?
- Trump hired workers who entered the US without authorization to build his skyscraper where he lives and his hotel in Washington DC. He saved a lot of money by doing this. Do you think Trump should have hired these people, or should he have hired people born in America, even though it would have cost him more money?
- The Washington Post says Trump made his money off of hardworking taxpayers like you. He's better off. Are you? How do you feel about him getting richer by making people like you fill his wallet?
- Trump has repeatedly used government to try to take ordinary people's property by force so he can make money by doing things like demolishing their houses, and building parking lots. How do you feel about that?
- Trump's business has gone bankrupt four times, more than any other major US business. Why would you trust him with your money?
- Trump once missed paying a $53 million bill, and his business went bankrupt as a result. Do you want to vote for another guy who spends trillions without a second thought and expects you to pay for it? Shouldn't Trump pay his bills?
- Trump isn't as rich or successful as you might think. He inherited a lot of money from his Dad, and he says he's worth more than twice what he really is.
- Trump isn't good at making deals. That's why he piles his business up with debt, can't pay it, and then his business goes bankrupt every few years. Could you get away with that? Doesn't that scare you, when we owe so much debt to China and we'll owe even more to them under Trump?

ANTI-TRUMP TALKING POINTS: CONSERVATIVE CAUCUSGOERS

- Trump has said he is pro-choice, just “uncomfortable” with the “procedures.” Is that how you feel about abortion?
- Trump has said he supports gun control measures opposed by Second Amendment advocates. Do you think we need more gun control or should government leave gun owners alone?
- Trump opposes any changes to government programs that are going broke and are making the national debt and deficit even bigger than they are now. He also has a history of piling his business up with so much debt that it’s gone bankrupt four times—more than any other major US business. How can you trust him to bring the national debt under control and not bankrupt the US even faster and worse than Obama? How much will we owe to China when Trump is done with his spending spree?
- Trump is one of two candidates running for President who wants to force Americans into a single-payer health care system. The other one is Bernie Sanders, a socialist who honeymooned in the Soviet Union. Do you agree with Trump and Sanders that the US should do single-payer health care?
- Donald Trump likes the Canadian health care system and has talked for decades about how great it is and how America should do something like Canada on health care. Do you want Canadian style health care, or would you prefer free market health care reform in line with American values?
- Trump wants to raise taxes. Do you support tax increases?
- Trump wants to make you pay a huge tax if you buy anything made anywhere other than America. Can you afford to pay an extra $10,000 in tax to Washington, DC if you buy a new truck or car? Or an extra $2,000 in tax to Washington, DC if you buy a new TV?
- Trump has repeatedly used government to try to take ordinary people’s property by force so he can make money by doing things like demolishing their houses, and building parking lots. How do you feel about that? What if it was your house?
- Trump’s business has gone bankrupt four times, more than any other major US business. Why would you trust him with your money?
- Trump once forgot to pay a $53 million bill, and his business went bankrupt as a result. Don’t we need to pay our bills, instead of voting for another guy who spends trillions and expects you to pay for it? Shouldn’t Trump pay his bills?

Paid for by Make America Awesome. Not authorized by any candidate or candidate committee.
The content of this material represents Make America Awesome’s interpretation of Donald Trump’s record and statements.

- Trump isn't as rich or successful as you think. He inherited a lot of money from his Dad, and he says he's worth more than twice what he really is.
- Trump isn't good at making deals. That's why he piles his business up with debt, can't pay it, and then his business goes bankrupt every few years. Can you trust him to get a good deal for America when he can't get good deals for his business?
- Trump hired workers who entered the US without authorization to build his skyscraper where he lives and his hotel in Washington DC. He saved a lot of money by doing this. Do you think Trump should have hired these people, or should he have hired people born in America, even though it would have cost him more money?