Kentucky Republican Presidential Caucus

Republican Party of Kentucky

KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL CAUCUS

On August 22, 2015, the Republican State Central Committee (RSCC) of the Republican Party of Kentucky (RPK) passed rules governing a presidential caucus in Kentucky, and then voted by a two-thirds majority to approve the first ever Kentucky Republican Presidential Caucus to be held on March 5, 2016.

On March 5, Republican voters will go to county caucus locations named herein anytime between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. local time to vote for their Republican nominee for president by secret paper ballot.

Presidential candidates must file their declaration of candidacy with the Republican Party of Kentucky by January 7, 2016. Kentucky's Republican delegates will be awarded proportionally based on the results of the caucus, according to the rules passed by the RSCC.

The Executive Committee of the RPK has approved this Call to Caucus in accordance with RPK rules. The Executive Committee of the RSCC may modify the Call to Caucus in the event a county becomes unable to conduct its caucus pursuant to its County Caucus Plan or if a caucus location becomes unavailable after the Call to Caucus is issued.
